the remarks. ~~There~~ There is no explicit date for the receipt of the auditor's report and there will be a breach of rule. It will also lead to friction between the Board and the Dept.

(9) Mr. Ramadas welcomes the framing of the rule.

(10) Under the Revised rule 22 the auditors are selected by the Registrar and are under his control, and not under the control of the general body. The printing of the entire Audit report and the work of inspection of the Dept would involve very heavy expenditure to the Society, and it seems desirable to accept the suggestion of the Provincial L. M. Bank to print such of the portions of the Audit Report and the Work of inspection as the Dept may direct. As the Registrar is under Sec 17 of the Act responsible for audit and control under the new rule.

(11) It is for consideration whether the Registrar may be unofficially consulted on the question before Returned with compliments.

The objection raised by the Mysore Co-operative Society,Ltd., that the printing of the Auditor's Report and the Notes of Inspection will tend to the creation of disharmony between the officers of the Department and the Directors of the societies concerned merits no consideration. The Auditors' Reports with the Boards' replies are being printed by most of the bigger societies along with the Annual Reports. The statement that by printing the Auditor's report in extenso the printing charges would swell does not therefore stand. There is some force in the suggestion of the President of the Land Mortgage Bank that only extracts from the Notes of Inspection of the institution by the officers of the Department need be printed and not the full Notes. But the extracts should be those that have been approved by the Inspecting Officer. The Rule may therefore be amended as follows:-

"13. On or before a date to be fixed in the bye-laws, which shall not be less than 15 days before the date fixed for the Annual General Meeting, the Committee shall publish an annual balance sheet showing the assets and the liabilities of the society, a profit and loss account and a statement of receipts and payments. The balance sheet, the profit and loss account and the statement of receipts and payments, the Auditor's Report and the Committee's replies to the observations of the Auditor and Notes of Inspection, if any, of the society by the Registrar or of his Assistants, shall be open to the inspection of any member during office hours at the

Sir,

With reference to Government Notification No. D.992/C.S. 14-38-5 dated 6-8-1938, published at page 206 of Part IV of the Mysore Gazette of 11th August 1938, calling for suggestions or objections on the draft revised rule 13 under the Mysore Co-operative Societies Act making it compulsory for the Societies to print the auditor's Report and the Notes of Inspection by the Registrar along with the Annual Report, I have the honour to state that it should be sufficient to send copies to the members of only such portions of the notes of Inspection of the Registrar or Assistant Registrar as he may direct therein, with answers thereto. This suggestion is made with a view to obviate the necessity to print the entire notes which are generally fairly lengthy and often contains mostly references to progress and such other routine matter which will be available to the members from the annual report itself.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

OBJECTIONS TO THE PROPOSED DRAFT RULE 13.

Objections to the proposal to circulate the Notes of Inspection of the Registrar or his Assistant and the office replies.

1. Unprecedented and strange:- The General Meeting deals with the members and its Directors and not with the dealings of the Government with the Society.

2. Heavy Expenditure:- The official auditors may write learned thesis and the notes of Inspection may also be elaborate To print and circulate all these together with the replies thereto would involve heavy expenditure, which many societies may find it difficult to bear. There is no corresponding gain for such loss.

3. Heavy work entailed for replies:- The Directors may be compelled to devote several months in preparing replies and their 'defence'. The normal work of the society would seriously suffer.

4. Dislocation of work:- The auditors cease to be under the influence of the society and it is not known when they would give their reports. No time table is prescribed for official inspection. It may take place at any time. If it takes place, say 8 days after a general meeting, the e is no meaning in getting it circulated 12 months afterwards by which time it will be hopelessly stale and out-of-date.

5. Friction with the Department:- Untill now the relations between the urban societies and the Department are very cordial and intimate. All official criticisms are treated with respect and are sympathetically adopted. This is largely due to the fact that the officers freely express themselves and the Directorate is equally free and ~~and~~ intimate in its correspondance. But if the Notes and the Replies are to be submitted for public criticism, there would be a grave danger of mutual friction. The Directors may try to irudicate themselves by arousing hostile feeling against the Department. The language of their replies would thereby deteriorate. The views and observations of the officers may be the butt-end of ridicule and attack wihtout their being present to defend themselves, The peace-loving officers would then confine their Notes to harmless commonplaces.

6. Substitue arrangement:- The purpose of the rule would be served if the Notes are directed to be placed on the Table for inspection. Most of the Notes relate to petty matters and have no general interest at all.

GEN. & REVENUE SECRETARIAT. 19[illegible] DEVELOPMENT BRANCH.

Sir,

With reference to Government Notification No.D 992-C.S.14-38-5 dated the 6th August 1938 publishing the draft of revised rule 13 of the Mysore Co-operative Scoeities Rules making it compulsory for the societies to print the Auditors' Report and the Notes of Inspection by the Registrar along with the annual report and send copies thereof to all the members of the society, I beg leave to state that the proposed change is a very wholesome and desirable one and was long overdue, and that the revised rule should be issued promptly. Its necessity is emphasized and becomes essential especially in the case of central institutions whose membership is distributed over the whole State. It will not be enough if the audit reports and Inspection Notes are merely placed on the table at the head-quarters of the society as is done in the case of the Bangalore Central Co-operative Bank in as much as it will be highly inconvenient, if not impossible, for all the members to come from distant and out of the way places to Bangalore before the date of the general meeting for perusal of these documents, much in advance of the general meeting, every member must have an opportunity of seeing and carefully studying the contents of these documents which give an independent and unbiassed version of the affairs of the society under an obligatory duty imposed on the officers concerned by the Statute, so that he may be in a position to contribute his quota for improving and maintaining the efficiency of the the society. Audit Reports and inspection notes should on no account be treated as confidential so far as the members of the society are concerned. They are the only safeguards graciously provided by Government in the Co-operative Act to enable a member to understand the exact and correct condition of the affairs of his society.

I beg to remain,
